

Remove Git commit sneakily

Friday, May 10, 2019 11:32 AM

To remove a commit where no one else has pulled the latest:

- 1) Pull the latest source of the branch
- 2) Perform a reset:
  - a. `git reset --hard HEAD~``
- 3) Do a force push
  - a. `git push -f`

This will remove the commit in the public repo

ANYONE WHO HAS DOWNLOADED THAT COMMIT WILL HAVE TO DO A FORCE PULL

`git pull -f`
